Clojure/north

Clojure/north is the first Clojure conference in Toronto, Canada, held on April 19-20th 2019. It is a non-profit conference from the Clojure community for the Clojure community with three main objectives:

1. Share knowledge within the Clojure community
2. Grow the Clojure community by offering accessible talks to newcomers
3. Demonstrate with the broader community how Clojure is being used to solve problems

We are expecting up to 200 attendees from all across the globe. Our team operates on a volunteer basis and we are aiming to keep ticket pricing accessible (C$160 general attendance), we are hoping for sponsors to help make this event as successful and enjoyable as we possibly can. You may refer to the table below for some perks we have in store for our sponsors, though any amount will be much appreciated.
